Four Men Buried Under the Ruins of a Great Mill at Blissfield.

None Killed.

Blissfield, Mich., Jan. 22.—At half-past five this morning the people of Blissfield were startled by the explosion of Barrow Bros. grist mill.

The engineer had left the mill about twenty minutes before and William Barrow stepped into the engine room previous to closing up for the night and had returned as far as the door when the accident occurred. He was blown twenty feet, but he is thought to be not seriously injured.

As the people gathered to the scene of the disaster they were horrified by bearing cries proceeding from the engine room of the saw mill adjoining. All those who could get an opportunity worked with a will, and soon found that four men had been buried under the debris. These were Luke Lanow, Gus Lanow, George Hathaway and Adeline Maloney.

An Awful Dish.

In twenty minutes the four feet of brick and mortar which held them prisoners had been removed, and they were free, although badly burned. They are not seriously injured.

The boiler of the mill was blown fully fifty feet in the air, and in falling crashed through the roof and side of the house of G. Sorenson, 150 feet from the mill. The family were seated at supper, and although the boiler fell three feet from the table, and every dish was broken, no one was injured save for a few cuts.

The entire loss is estimated at $3,000.

MICHIGAN ASSOCIATION DINNER. It Will be Held at Willard's on Thursday Evening.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The annual Michigan association dinner at Willard's hotel last Thursday night will be one of the best in the history of the association. There will be but three speeches, but their arrangement is such that they will be particularly attractive. The venerable George W. Jones of Iowa, who was Michigan's last territorial delegate in congress, from 1835 to 1837, will speak on the past of Michigan. Senator Francis B. Stockbridge, who has just been re-elected and is consequently very much interested in the affairs of Michigan, will speak on the topic, and Judge J. Logan Chipman will deliver the principal address of the evening on the "Future of Michigan." Helen Corinne Bergson of Michigan will give a recitation, and Walter T. Smith of Schoolcraft, who is a member of the United States Marine band, will furnish several cornet solos. The Mandolin club and the Chorus club of this city will entertain with songs and music. After this there will be a dance, until the small hours, in the historic Willard's hall.

NEARLY KILLED HER.

Sad Sequel to an Anticipated Marriage at Battle Creek.

BATTLE CREEK, Jan. 22.—A sad sequel to an anticipated happy wedding happened to a Battle Creek lady last week. She had been engaged for two years to a wealthy widower in the state of New York. They were to meet in Port Huron and be married and then proceed to California to spend the winter. The lady went to Port Huron according to agreement and waited at the hotel two days. The gentleman not arriving she made inquiries of the hotel clerk about him. He handed out an eastern paper, received that day, containing a half column obituary notice of the gentleman, marked in big red pencil marks. The lady fainted on reading the heading, but was revived by her room. The clerk had no knowledge of the expected marriage. The lady has not fully recovered from the shock, but has been sent by her friends to visit relatives in the east.

BURNED TO A CRISP.

A Swedish Girl at Marquette Was Literally Roasted in Oil.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Jan. 22.—Ella Lundberg, Swedish domestic employed in the family of Express Agent Mead, in this city, was horribly burned this evening, and received injuries from which she will probably die. She started to go down into the cellar with a lighted lamp in her hand. On the stairs she tripped and fell headlong to the bottom. The lamp was broken in the fall and the oil became ignited as it ran out upon the cellar floor.

In her struggles to arise the girl's clothing came in contact with the blazing oil. In an instant she was a mass of flames. She ran shrieking to the upper floor, presenting a awful spectacle to the terror-stricken family. The girl was horribly burned, her body being one mass of blisters. In many places the skin and flesh came away with her clothing.

She never for a moment doubted her husband's innocence, and as she expressed herself, hoped and expected soon to see him vindicated. Mr. Coughlin, Jr., of Hancock has come to Chicago to confer with the attorneys relative to the new trial.

GAYLORD, Mich., Jan. 22.—When David Buell, of Elmira, returned home yesterday noon he found his wife tied by her apron and handkerchief to a post in the cellar.

She says that three men called at the house about 10 o'clock in the forenoon and bound her. They then obtained $50 of her money, which was in a bureau, and $365 from the safe, which had been collected by Mr. Buell for a mortgage. The safe was found open and two gold watches in it were untouched.

CODEY'S EDITOR.

Albert Hardy, the Poet and Author.

He Has Suffered Many Months With Insomnia.

Helen Jackson Also Laid Up in New York City.

Similar Cases Reported at State Capital.

Harman Henderer of Albany Now Permanently Cured.

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 17.—Albert Hardy, the poet-author, whose "Mad of Bethany" commended him to Mr. Gladstone and Edward Everett Hale, has been appointed associate editor of Godley's Magazine, a position he will doubtless fill with great credit to this leading periodical.

Mr. Hardy has entirely recovered from his long siege of insomnia and nervous prostration, owing to the use of the wonderful remedy discovered by Prof. Phelps of Dartmouth college. Says Mr. Hardy: "After suffering for months with insomnia (sleeplessness) and nervous prostration, I was persuaded to try Paine's celery compound. "Good results were shown after the use of one bottle, and three practically cured me."

"Fully appreciating the benefits derived from the use of Paine's celery compound, I take pleasure in recommending it to others. It is not only valuable as a remedy, but delightfully pleasant as a compound."

The case of Helen Jackson, who now resides at 23 Lawrence street, is not unlike it. Both suffered from the result of an impaired nervous system, and both were speedily cured. Says Mrs. Jackson:

"My left shoulder and arm, my knee and the lower part of my right leg became very stiff and painful. I could hardly walk. My doctor came and prescribed for me. Instead of getting better I got worse. It shifted from my shoulder down to my hand. That was so swollen I could not use it for some weeks. My leg remained the same. I hobbled around for one whole month before I gave up. That was in January. One afternoon in February I felt as though I would like to lay down for a few moments. I did, but I stayed there, I did not get up again for two months. I had three doctors and they told me I had inflammatory rheumatism. I still had pain in my left arm, but my knee was a night. That was so swollen and so crooked, and so painful, I thought I would never get it straight again."

"With all the medicine I took, nothing seemed to help. "During that time my sister recommended Paine's celery compound, and I began taking it at once. Slow but sure, it did its work. I felt the effect in two weeks' time. In two weeks more I began to walk with a cane. If you could see me now the way I walk about, you would never believe it was I who could not walk for two months. Paine's celery compound did it. I believe in it and recommend it to everybody."

"My husband also had terrible sharp pains all through his body, which located in his left hip. He commenced at once taking Paine's celery compound and can prove the wonderful effect it had on him. The pains left him and he felt a different man altogether."

From all over the state and particularly along the Hudson, where it has been almost impossible to supply the demand for Paine's celery compound, come the same kind of reports. Says Harman Henderer, of No. 243 Third street, Albany:

"It affords me pleasure to add my testimony to the value and efficacy of Paine's celery compound."

"During the six years between 1884 and 1890 I was a constant sufferer from acute rheumatism, for many days at a time being unable to leave my bed, and at all times suffering intense pain."

"I had tried every remedy suggested, without obtaining relief, and had about given up all hope of recovery, when, a little over a year ago, at the earnest solicitation of a friend, I began to use Paine's celery compound. From the time I began taking the compound, I began to obtain relief, and for the past nine months I have not lost a day from my business, and now consider myself permanently cured."

Paine's celery compound makes people well.
